

PRESS RELEASE

Global4PL Supply Chain Services Opens Office in Hong Kong

Jeff Chiu appointed President for Asia-Pacific Region

SANTA CLARA, Calif., May 30, 2008 - Global4PL Supply Chain Services announced the opening of its Hong Kong office today. The office will be dedicated to supporting companies with their operations and/or sourcing programs in China and the rest of Asia.

The new Hong Kong office will allow Global4PL to provide its customers with experienced on-the-ground support. "We took the time and effort in staffing the Hong Kong office with knowledgeable and professional staff because our customers deserve first rate support and service," said Jeff Chiu, newly appointed President of Global4PL's Asia-Pacific Region.

Global4PL combines origin and destination expertise in supply chain management and operations, offering manufacturers and shippers solid supply chain capabilities at a fraction of the cost. "Technology is a great communication tool, but a handshake in person still means something," said Chiu.

In addition to supporting Asian operations from Hong Kong, Global4PL will leverage existing resources in North America, South America, and India to help companies develop supply chain capabilities in a shared model across customers.

About Global4PL:

Creator of the PO Horizon™ online shipment visibility tool, Global4PL Supply Chain Services provides consulting, software, and program management services that maximize business value from supply chain networks. For more information on how Global4PL can fine tune your organization's supply chain model, please visit www.global-4pl.com.